SERENADE

Just a song at twilight as the cafeteria lights are on, and a tableful of sophomores is serenaded by six not-too-reluctant frosh. It's all part of initiation.

Two Octobers, Two Crusades Emphasize Necessity of Rosary

By ALEX LAZUR

And the Pope has cast his arms abroad for agony and loss,
And called the kings of Christendom for swords about the Cross.

* * * * *
Comes up along a winding road the noise of the Crusade.
Strong gongs groaning as the guns boom far,
Don John of Austria is going to the war.—Chesterton

Back in 1571, Don John of Austria led his Christian armies against the Turks in the decisive battle of Lepanto and thoroughly routed the Turkish fleet. This came about because Christians in all countries invoked the Blessed Mother under the title of the Queen of the Rosary.

Today Christians in all countries fight another menace, another foe to their faith, and the Church has urged the special use once again of the Rosary to combat this evil.

That Mary thinks highly of the Beads is evident from the fact that she has held them in her hands at all the recent famous apparitions. In addition, the Church attaches great indulgences to the saying of the Rosary.

October is the month of the Rosary, and devotions here on the campus will be held every evening during 6:30 Benediction. They will include the Rosary, the Litany, and the prayer to St. Joseph.

Frosh Election Near Finish of Nominating Part

Freshmen interested in seeking class office will have until Oct. 10 to make themselves known as official candidates in the forthcoming freshman election. In order to be nominated, an aspirant must obtain the signatures of 50 of his classmates, the approval of his hall rector, and the approval of the freshman class moderators, Father Baird and Mr. Beane.

Early nominations for class president include: Joe Maher, of Joliet; and Ron Aygarn, of Bloomington, Ill. Seeking the office of vice-president is Tim Stivers, of Anchorage, Ky.

Shortly after Oct. 10, the candidates will be formally introduced and nominated by their campaign managers at a meeting of the freshman class, which will inaugurate the public campaign. After about 10 days of campaigning, the election of class officers will be held, the exact date to (Turn to Page Four)

Social Calendar Opens With Rec Hall Mixer

St. Joe's social calendar for 1952 opened the weekend of Sept. 27, when 93 girls from St. Mary-of-the-Woods, Terre Haute, and 155 St. Joe students enjoyed a rec hall mixer.

Then Saturday, after the Valpo game, there were two dances—one at the South Shore View Hotel, sponsored by the Chicago Club and presenting Jerry Blaessing and his band, and the other at St. Xavier's College.

There will be no mixer this weekend because of Homecoming, but on Oct. 18, two buses will transport students to the Butler game and probably to a mixer at Indianapolis's Marian College afterwards. There will be no charge for the trip.

The next dance here is a mixer the 25th. The girls' school is as yet unidentified. Music for this get-together will be furnished by the school swing band.

For those interested, free instructions in ballroom dancing will be given each week by a dancing instructor from Chicago.

Student Union Veep Election

Tomorrow

Two seniors face each other tomorrow as the Student Union ballots, for its vice-president.

The position, won in the April elections by Pat Evard, was thrown open when Evard entered the armed forces. As the deadline for nominations passed, only Bill Dietz and John Pastrick, both four-year men, had filed petitions for the office.

Passed Qualifications

The two candidates had passed the necessary qualifications of having the signatures of 25 students and three faculty members on their petitions, of possessing a C-or-better average, and of being approved as to these qualifications by the registrar.

Only those students who have been members of the Union for two or more semesters are eligible to vote. The balloting will take place during the lunch hour tomorrow.

The filling of this office will leave but one vacancy on the Student Council—to be occupied by the yet-to-be-elected freshman class president.

One Council post was decided at a meeting of the Inter-Club Committee Sept. 23, when that group met and unanimously chose Don Netols as senior delegate to the NFCCS, replacing Miro Pregelj, who resigned after being named regional president of the federation.

Illustrated Lecture

The "world's foremost authority on Alaska," Mr. Edgar C. Raine, will present an illustrated lecture in the College Theater Oct. 20, at 8 p. m.

Mr. Raine, who has resided in the Territory for the past 33 years, has been recognized by Alaskan papers as the most competent authority on the subject and has been commended by colleges sponsoring his appearance.

The talk will be supplemented by 150 colored views of the Land of the Midnight Sun.

Buddy DiVito to Furnish Music for Victory Dance

Buddy DiVito and his orchestra will furnish the music, a football "Autumn Madness" will set the theme, and the St. Joe-Indiana State Homecoming game will attract all the attention this weekend as Collegeville prepares for its Homecoming whirl for 1952.

One of the biggest "name" bands ever snagged for the Monogram Club's annual affair DiVito's orchestra will play to a full house at the fieldhouse, beginning at 9:00 p. m. and ending at midnight.

The "Autumn Madness" theme will feature a football-field dance floor (the intramural courts) and the lockers (main court), where the couples will sit. Two "victory lanes" will criss-cross this latter and a giant Puma will stand where the paths cross.

The final phases of this event begin today with the selection of the Homecoming queen and her two attendants. This will be done by Fathers Martin and Maziarz and Messrs. Pupo, Sanderlin, and Marin from photos previously submitted by students. The queen will ride on her special float in Saturday's parade and will preside over the half-time ceremonies.

Pep Rally Friday

Friday, the traditional celebration will begin with the Homecoming bonfire and pep rally at 7:15 p. m. Hugh McAvoy will be master of ceremonies and Coach Gene Fetter will introduce his players. The Glee Club will also present a few numbers. The bonfire and the "debeaniezing" of the freshmen will symbolize the end of initiation and serve to warm the fingers and spirits of those present.

The Chicago Club's hayride will follow the rally, with bed check scheduled for 1:00 a. m.

Parade in Afternoon

Saturday at 12:45 p. m., the parade will begin. Highlighted by bands from neighboring high schools and featuring the hall floats, the parade will begin in Rensselaer and march to the football field. During half-time, a $25 prize and the Homecoming plaque will be awarded the hall with the best float. East Seifert copped the trophy last year.

The Homecoming Dance will bring the weekend to an end. Bed check Saturday will be at 3:00 a. m.

All three sets of class officers are working on the project, the seniors handling the parade and merchant goodwill; the juniors, the accommodations for the weekend; and the sophs, the pep rally.

Chairmen Named

St. Joe students met recently in their home halls to choose one of their number to represent them on the Inter-Hall Committee of the Student Union.

Those elected and the hall they represent are: Jim Greene, Noll Hall; John Pastrick, Drexel Hall; Leo Nurrenbern, Gaspar Hall; Tim Stivers, Ad Building; Ron Favorite, East Seifert; and John Quinn, West Seifert.

The duties of the committee are to aid in better relationships between the halls and to supervise such hall activities as the building of the Homecoming float.

An Open Letter

To the Students of St. Joseph's:

As you are now aware, this weekend has been chosen as Homecoming Weekend for the college. During the two-day program, several outstanding events have been scheduled. But there is one event we know you will not want to miss.

This is the Monogram Club's Homecoming Dance, the high spot of the weekend, to be held this year on Oct. 11, in the fieldhouse. There will be dancing from nine till midnight and tickets are $4.00, plus tax.

We feel that we have been most fortunate in being able to secure Buddy DiVito and his orchestra for the Dance, and we extend to each and every student a personal invitation to attend the dance.

—The Monogram Club

To relieve congestion:

- 1) Park in the lot west of the fieldhouse in front of the rec hall, or,
- 2) Park in the lot north of the fieldhouse.
- 3) No parking is allowed in front of the fieldhouse.
- 4) Those parking in the north lot may stop at the fieldhouse long enough to let their dates out.
- 5) Entrance to the dance will be by the front door of the fieldhouse only.

WALTZING MATILDA

Well, maybe her name wasn't Matilda, but 250 people enjoyed rec hall hospitality and a good dance as St. Joe opened its social season Sept. 27.

Numbers Racket Back as Nollites Count Points

By BILL FEELY

Pat: Did numbers 12 and 18 lose five or ten for infraction 27—or was it 987?

MJ: No, it was 17 and 21 who violated eight and four and their total is now 45½.

Quick, Henry, the adding machine!

No, this conversation is not that of two of St. Joe's illustrious math majors. No, indeed, this may soon be a common talk between a pair of ordinary guys, who have fallen under the spell of the newest method of prefecture—the point system.

So far, only Upper Noll, under Father Robbins, has had the advantage of this method, invented by Father Robbins himself.

The system works like this: each student begins with 50 points. From this are subtracted demerits assessed for various violations of the rules. If a student goes through a week with no demerits, ten points are added to this total.

When the score reaches 75, he has an extra town night on request; 90 points eliminates the study hour. On the other hand, 25 or less points deprives the student of his original town night and a score of zero entitles him to a free ticket to Fr. Schaefer's office.

In order to preserve anonymity, individuals are numbered instead of named. Thus the little numerical jumble at the opening of this article.

Thus far it has brought a little more peace and quiet to the hall, whose residents now go by the Golden Rule: "Do good and get points." And so Upper Noll, the garden spot of the universe, marches on!

Catholic Youth Celebrate Week

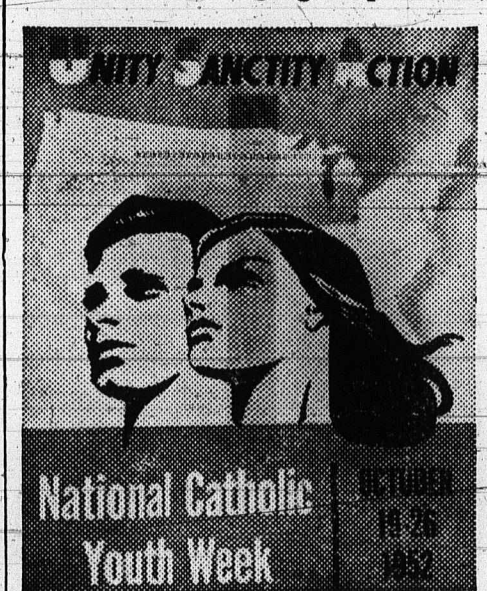

Catholic Youth Week will be observed on a nation-wide basis for the second straight year, beginning Oct. 19 and ending on the 26th.

The theme of this year's program is "Unity, Sanctity, Action," the initial letters of which also indicate the patriotic aspects of the observance.

Sends Message

During the week, Pope Pius is scheduled to send a message to the Catholic youth of the United States. President Truman is slated to issue a message for the week, with governors and mayors also expected to issue proclamations.

Newspapers, magazines, and columnists are urging cooperation, with many names in radio and television also helping.

Youth to Take Part

The youth themselves, with rallies, open houses, Holy Hours in the cathedrals and churches throughout the country, united prayers for peace and the men and women in the service, proposed daily assistance at Mass and reception of Holy Communion during the week, climaxed on the Feast of Christ the King (Sun., Oct. 26) will take part in the state and local observances.

AS I WRITE THIS—it's Saturday afternoon—the clatter of my typewriter rings hollowly through the hall. Nowhere can I hear the patter of little feet—or even the gentle whisper of over-abstracted students. Outside my window I see one lonely car parked in front of Noll Hall. In fact, the only sound of any kind of life besides these klickety keys is coming from my radio—and about all I'm getting out of that is the notion that every major-leaguer at the World Series uses the same kind of razor blades. In short, the joint isn't jumpin' today. A few of us more stationary figures remain behind, but for the most part, the St. Joseph's student body has disintegrated for the weekend. A game with Valpo, a dance at St. Xavier's, a Chicago Club dance—a girl-friend back home, an open weekend—any number of reasons, including even sheer boredom, have sent the college gentlemen to all parts of the Middle West.

QUITE A CONTRAST FROM A WEEK AGO, when 90 young ladies from the land of the Woods descended upon our campus. "This is really livin'!" was the general cry. "The best dance ever," most agreed. And now, so soon after: "This joint is dead,"—and the campus is deserted! And they tell me woman is a varied and a changeable thing! But don't take me too seriously. We mortals are peculiar creatures, aren't we?

SATURDAY IS THE ELEVENTH—and Homecoming is upon us. Again the campus will change aspect and become the center of interest. The Monogram Club is hard at work preparing for the dance, with the aid of too, too willing frosh, and all hands are waiting the arrival of Buddy DiVito and his band. The maestro, by the way, is John Minelli's cousin.

HATS OFF TO "SUDS" NEWETT—pardon me, Cecil B. De Suds—and his crew for one of the peppiest pep rallies we've seen around here in many a moon. You had us howling, Bob. Keep it up.

And speaking of Mr. Newett, we hear he has turned his multitudinous talents to literary endeavors, this time with the result entitled, Ode To A Fountain Pen. The manuscript was unavailable for immediate publication, but we have the feeling that its sentiments are quite similar to those expressed in a poem by the Greek lyricist Anacreon. Perhaps the boys in World Lit class remember it in this translation by Thomas Stanley:

Fruitful earth drinks up the rain;
Trees from earth drink that again;
The sea drinks the air, the sun
Drinks the sea, and him the moon.
Is it reason, then, d'ye think,
I should thirst when all else drink?

GEORGE HALAS AND THE CHICAGO BEARS recently surprised the Xavier Hall students and the sisters in the kitchen with a substantial tip in appreciation for the excellent service given them by the community during their stay here. And on the more sorrowful side, the community boys will be sorry to learn that their special buddy, Washington Serini, no longer is employed by the Windy City team.

Heard after one of those confoosing logic classes:

Sante Reale, still confoosed: "If a tree fell down in Michigan and I learned about it, would my concept of fallen trees be extended?"

Father Lechner: "No, the tree would be extended—on the ground."

DUST IN THE CORNER: Frank Hohl back on campus and moving quite well after a recent operation . . . Father Burns going all out for the students, returning the coke machines to the campus—and even going around to fix doors himself . . . Steve Oleskiewicz and Mary O'Sullivan (!) conversing in Polish at the St. Mary's mixer . . . Swami "Suds" Newett gaining great spiritual lights from contemplations of a Blatz Beer sign . . . The girls in the offices granted a generous dispensation from cafeteria line-crashing rule . . . Charlie Rohan experiencing great difficulties over in the Dorm after lights-out—sometimes he can't find his flashlight! . . . Father Gerlach perturbed by flying feathers in the Ad Building . . . Glee Club quartet formed again with only Miro Pregelj returning from last year's group. New members: Keith Forton, John Griffin, and either George Leibforth or Dan Petersen. . . Wilkie Chung having troubles proving to local alcohol dispensers that he is of voting age . . . Francis Molson appointed editor of this year's Measure staff—which we hope will become a reality for a change . . . "Iggy" Ayala, ex-'55, serving in the Air Force . . . Pat Reilly, also ex-'55, serving in the Armored Division at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, where, he says, "many boys are college men or college grads." . . . Phil Stahl and Dave Coady, ex-'51, on campus recently.

Space is scarce and the end is near—to be precise, it comes—right here!

OCTOBER'S ROSES

Yesterday, Oct. 7, the Church celebrated one of the most outstanding feasts of the Blessed Virgin throughout the entire year—the Feast of the Most Holy Rosary.

This date, so chosen to commemorate the defeats of the Turks by the Christians at the Battle of Lepanto—a defeat brought about by the Blessed Virgin through the Rosary—is one of the most appealing of all Mary's feasts. The Rosary has wrought innumerable miracles and favors and it is only natural that Catholics the world over set aside a special day to honor Mary under this title.

One day, however, would scarcely be enough to pay tribute to this feast. So the Church has dedicated the whole month of October to the Rosary, and appropriate devotions and services will be going on in all Catholic churches this month, honoring Mary.

So, too, does St. Joe join the celebration. October devotions here are scheduled every evening during Benediction in the chapel. The extra few minutes of time necessary to attend these services can hardly begin to compensate for the benefits to be derived from them.

Why not attend all the devotions you can this month? It's a good chance to get a lot for next-to-nothing.—B.T.A.

INITIATING THE FRESHMAN

Last year at this time, a scathing editorial appeared in a certain campus newspaper lambasting the sophomore class for its miserable conduct of what started out to be an initiation. Although it is true that said sophomore class was outnumbered by the freshmen almost four to one, the editorial made it quite clear that the initiation could have been carried on with at least some enthusiasm. That was last year. Times have really changed!

Now, we see those same freshies of last year, grown up into big bad sophs, carrying on another initiation. Only this time there's a difference—the 1952 initiation is a success.

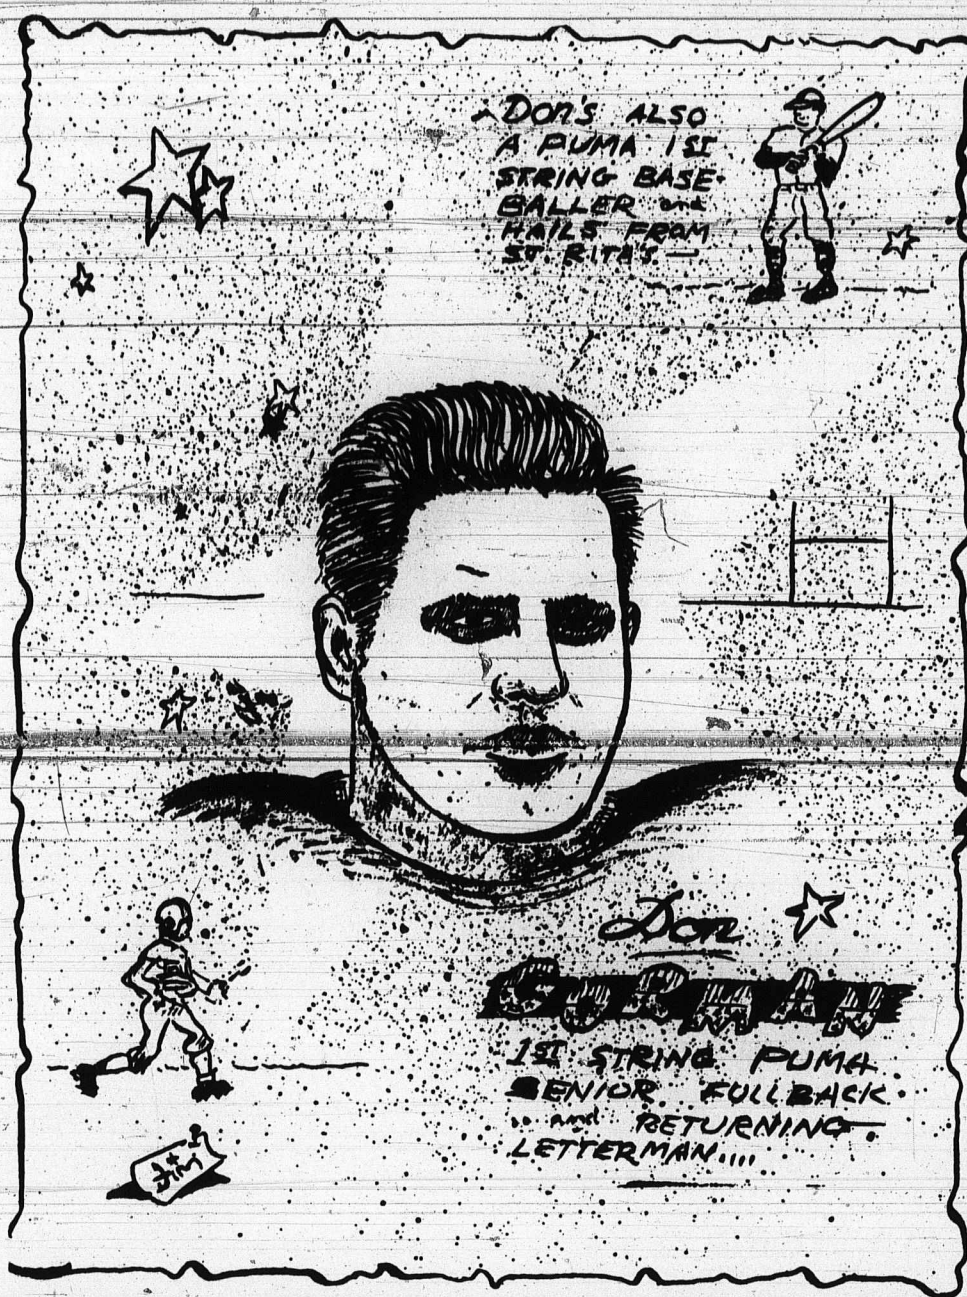

We believe that, while an education is the primary goal of a college student, other outside activities also help mold the character. After graduation, one's college days are remembered less for the studying and examinations than for the happy times, when fellows get together and have fun. So we believe that there is definitely a place for an initiation in the collegiate scene, provided it is not so difficult as to hinder the main objective of the student, learning.

And we consider, as an example of such a well-conducted initiation, the process now coming to a close on the St. Joe campus. We feel that this year's initiation has been everything it should be and has pointed out the weaknesses in that of 1951. This year's sophomore class has started off admirably and we only urge them to keep up the good work during the rest of the year.

Then, too, we should compliment the long-suffering frosh. He has gone through a rigorous month here, and now that the worst is almost over, he can begin to relax a little and look forward to the next three years when he too will be on the giving, instead of the receiving end. We think the freshmen, for the most part, have proved wonderful sports and should produce a fine class of '56.

So, our hats are off to both lower classes. And may the sophs of '53 pour it on in the same cheerful spirit as they took it in '52!—B.T.A.

Pumas Drop Third Straight, 32-13

The Grapevine

By JOHN WOLFE

LORAS 56, ST. JOE 0; St. Ambrose 24, St. Joe 6; Valparaiso 32, St. Joe 13. A total of 112 points for our opponents and 19 for the Pumas. St. Joe takes on the Indiana State Sycamores in the annual Homecoming game. This Indiana State team is fresh from a very convincing 40-7 victory over Evansville, and will be out to avenge a 13-0 defeat handed to them by the Pumas last year. We used to have a tradition here at St. Joe that we never lose a Homecoming game. At least, we had that tradition up until last year when Valpo whacked the Pumas, 32-3. It is just about time to start a new streak, a winning streak.

BUT THE QUESTION is whether St. Joe has the guns to do it. At the start of the season, back on Aug. 31, the outlook was bright. Since then the failure of students to return, the ineligibility of Jerry Wenzel, and a flock of key injuries have slowed the Puma attack to a walk. Many players have to go almost the full sixty minutes and when they are given a rest, inexperienced men must take their place and it often proves very costly. The boys play just as hard as their opponents, if not harder; but they just don't seem to have what it takes to play winning football. There were flashes of fine play in the second quarter of the Valpo game last Saturday when the Puma passing attack worked to near perfection. The blocking for the passer was good and the receivers were in the open and making fine catches. But that was as far as it went.

On defense, this observer hasn't seen a finer line-backer this year than John Donnelly, who is in on half the tackles the Pumas make. The pass defense is vastly improved over the showing made in the first game. But...

THE MOST GLARING mistakes this year for the Pumas have been ragged tackling and insufficient blocking. It has been getting better with each game but will have to be a lot sharper than displayed last Saturday if we expect to defeat Indiana State. A glance at the statistics of the Valpo-Indiana State game show that I. S. had 15 first downs to Valpo's 11. They outgained the Crusaders in rushing, 137 to 117, and 58 to 39 in the air. So it is plain to see that St. Joe has its work cut out for itself, come Saturday. It could be a long afternoon for the annual Homecoming crowd, or it could be a joyous day capped by a happy victory dance in the evening. The desire for a win is never so great as it is for the Homecoming game. The spirit of the team is high and the crowd's enthusiasm is stronger, in both number and voice, than at any other time of the year.

IT WILL BE the last Homecoming game for such veterans as Tom Paonessa, Roland Meinert, George Riggs, Don Gorman, Joe Pindell, John Minelli and Tom Schnieders. There is no better time to cop an initial victory. We haven't won a Homecoming game since 1949. The players have a desire to win and Coach Gene Fetter will do his darndest to make this a victorious celebration. The Pumas may be undermanned, as they were in the first three games this season, but they never quit trying. This is the game they have to win. So come on! Everybody, get behind the team and let's knock those Sycamores for a loop and get on the victory trail at last!

Ambrose Stops Pumas in First Home Contest

St. Joe's football team did much to soften the hurt of their earlier loss to Loras when they succumbed to St. Ambrose, 24-6, on the home field a week ago Sunday. The loss was brightened by an unexpected pass defense that held the Bee eleven to 65 yards in the air. The St. Joe offense also showed promise of better things to come.

The lone Puma touchdown came in the third quarter. Joe Pindell took honors for the day when he shielded Bill Zimmer's pass from a threatening Bee interceptor, started down the sideline, and then threw the Ambrose secondary out of joint as he reversed his field and took the long way around to the end zone. The spectacular play originated on the Puma 20-yard line.

Drops Pass

With the score 18-6, a definite threat by the Pumas was ended when Frank Socha was unable to hold onto a pass in the end zone, minutes after Pindell had scored. After that the game was mostly dictated by St. Ambrose's strong running attack.

In the first quarter, the Bees fought from their own 10-yard line to the St. Joe 15, from where fullback Ray Shannon advanced for the first score. After that Ambrose added another tally in every quarter.

Ramirez Stars

Among the encouraging factors of the game was the performance of little Ray Ramirez, freshman from Springfield, Ill. On one of the few occasions that Ramirez carried the ball, he picked up 25 yards against a strong defense. Later, he snagged a pass in the middle of the Ambrose defense for a 15-yard gain.

St. Joe Faces Improved Foes

The Pumas are finding the 1952 schedule tougher as the season rolls on. St. Joe is due to face Indiana State and Butler, probably the most improved teams in the ICC, during the next two weeks.

Oct. 11 brings Homecoming and Indiana State. In their first two outings, the Sycamores broke their winless string of 11 games with a 33-7 victory over Illinois Normal and capped a moral win in holding Valpo to a scoreless tie.

Pumas Hold Edge

Statemen Don Vrabel, Jim Morefield, and Arvin Workman hope to take up where they left off in the scoring department. On the line, John Gainey, a 200-pound guard, and Jack Moon, a 208-pound center, will guard the State defenses. So far, St. Joe holds a 6-2 edge over the Sycamores, including a 13-0 win last year.

Butler's Bulldogs, favorites for the ICC title, host the Pumas Oct. 18. Led by 14 returning lettermen and 45 frosh, Butler stacks up to be a real power this year. The (Turn to Page Four)

Intramurals Open Season

Intramural football competition opened Sept. 29, and after the first three days of play, the race is already beginning to shape up as a two-way battle between last year's champs, the Indians, and a freshman squad, the Gaels.

Opening day saw the Gaels trip the upper-class Brewers, 2-0, as Ken Zawodny was caught on a handoff behind his own goal. In the other game, a single PAT enabled the Beanie Boys to nip the Illinois Travelers, 7-6. For the frosh, Chuck Riedy was outstanding, passing to Don Hallagan for the TD and then running the ball over for the winning point. The Travelers cut the lead down in a sustained drive, highlighted by the passing of Bob Daley, who threw to John Morrison for the six points.

The Indians began where they

The score reached 32-7 as the men from Valpo pushed over their fifth touchdown early in the fourth period. John Mader climaxed an 80-yard drive by going over from the one.

NFCCS Holds Regional Meet

The first regional meeting of the school year for the Fort Wayne region of NFCCS was held Sept. 28 at Nazareth College, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Presided over by the regional chairman, St. Joe's Miro Pregelj, the meeting saw the installation of two new officers—Marshall Desmond, Notre Dame, as vice-president; and Susie Steigmeyer, from St. Francis, Fort Wayne, as treasurer.

Included in the business was the presentation and adoption of programs for the regional commissions, and the agreement to take part in the Federation's overseas program.

Cooperation with the Newman Club Federation and apportionment of $175 from a fund for Negro scholarships were also approved. The next meeting will be held at St. Francis in November.

St. Joe was represented at the congress by Pregelj, Don Netols, Jack Udelhofen, and Fathers Martin and Wuest.

St. Joe Holds Science Meet

The first Science Commission workshop in the history of the Fort Wayne region of the NFCCS, and possibly in the whole Federation's setup, is scheduled for Collegeville Oct. 18 and 19.

Jack Udelhofen, Science Commission chairman and Father Albert Wuest, moderator for the group, are in charge of the arrangements for the program.

The keynote address will be delivered by Dr. J. Karabinos, Ph.D., research chemist at the Blockson Chemical Co. His subject will be "Science Today."

Sunday morning, Father James Hinton will address the visitors on the technique of writing popular science articles. In the afternoon, regional president Miro Pregelj will speak on commissions and commission activities. A discussion period will follow each session.

The commission has elected as its project for this year, "The Peacetime Application of Atomic Energy."

Glee Club to Sing

A Glee Club enlarged to 60 members is preparing for its first public appearance this Friday evening. The singers have been slated to present a few numbers at the pep rally that night.

The club, with a membership of ten over last year's group, recently named Tom Van Acker president for this school year to replace Ed Kafka, last year's choice, who is now studying in Vienna. Jack Richert took over Van Acker's old position as secretary-treasurer. Elmer Molchan is the club's vice-president.

COORDINATOR

Father Henry Martin, former director of the Hammond Extension, has been named the first Coordinator of Student Personnel Services. Father Martin will bring together under one head all student-faculty relationships.

Newest Campus Office Held by Father Martin

By BILL WALSKO

The newest office on the campus, created just this year, is that of Coordinator of Student Personnel Services. It is held by the Rev. Henry J. Martin, a familiar figure around St. Joe since his ordination in 1940.

Father Martin's specific task is to coordinate, and prevent conflicts in, the schedules and activities of five different widely dispersed offices directly concerned with student life. These are athletics, discipline, health service, student chaplain, and student counseling and guidance. Only strictly academic and financial situations do not fall under the new office.

A coordinator of student activities was felt to be necessary because, in the past, many of the above five offices had overlapping duties and powers. Father Martin now serves as general chairman for the heads of the five different areas; and, when necessary, he acts as the student's direct link with the administration, reporting directly to the president.

The new office is calculated to bring a more harmonious and more efficient organization into the campus activities both of students and of faculty.

35 Cagers Report

Head basketball coach Dick Scharf reports that 35 freshmen have turned out for basketball drills in the first week of practice. A preliminary meeting began the frosh cage activities on Oct. 1. Since then the squad has been drilling on fundamentals from 7:00 to 8:30 four evenings a week. On Friday the boys work out individually from 4:00 to 5:30.

In an early survey, Coach Scharf cited nine of the junior cagers of whose services he hopes to make use: Ray Cerney, Tim O'Brien, Bernie Horn, Bob Daley, Wilbur Wells, Ed O'Rourke, Marve Hackman, Bill Mitchell, and Jerry Dewey.

Bulldogs' outstanding ball carriers include sophs John Riddle and Gene Magen and junior Don Kelly. The three totalled 72 points last year. Fullback Norm Ellenberger holds all conference kicking honors with a 40.6 average.

Butler Cops Two Butler opened the season by nipping Evansville, 25-20, and by trouncing North Central, 47-6. The Bulldogs and the Pumas are all even so far, with a 3-3-1 record.

being a safety scored as Cotter Tharin was caught behind his goal. The 'Sheep's TD was registered by Jerry Caron on an intercepted pass, while the Kids scored on a Bugher-Hospodka flip.

Oct. 2 found the Gaels edging the Blacksheep, 18-12. The Gaels tallied first on a one-yard plunge by Mike Churosh and a blocked punt recovered in the end zone, but the Blacksheep tied it up as Bill Hopkins scored and a Paracarlson aerial was good. In the last two minutes, though, Dick Dwinell passed to Tim O'Brien and the game was over. Also on the 2nd, the Beanie Boys found the tables turned as they lost by a single point, 7-6, to the Brewers. After Don Hallagan had registered his second TD of the young season, the Brewers fought back and tied the game as Dick Lewczynski recovered a blocked punt in the end zone. Billy Joe Schulte passed to Chet Pilat for the seventh and deciding point.

The Indians celebrated Oct. 3 by routing the Illinois Travelers, 47-0, as six men got into the act. Smoky Smolar led with 25 points; Don Merki got seven; Jack Kintz, six; Butch Reutebuch, six; Gus Pasquini, two; and R. Brendan O'Connor, one. In the other contest, the Dervures smothered the Whiz Kids, 15-0. After Jerry Bednarkiewicz had nailed a Whiz Kid for a safety, Steve Patun ran 40 yards around end and Ed Cyrier tallied on an intercepted pass and a 15-yard run.

As decided in an IM bowling meeting last Friday, the season will open on the 15th, with Oct. 13 the deadline for the entering of teams. There are five bowlers and one alternate per team.

A shuffleboard league for the rec hall will soon be organized. Singles and doubles will both be open to competition.

Campus Visited 145 Enroll at By Marine, Air Extension

During the past few weeks, representatives of both the Air Corps and the Marine Corps paid two-day visits to Collegeville, explaining what they had to offer to the college student.

The Air Force was primarily interested in presenting its Air Cadet program, open to all collegians with 60 or more credit hours. If the student passes his physical examination, held at Chanute Field, Ill., he can qualify for the program and will be draft-exempt for four months after his Selective Service board is so informed. The Air Force recommends that qualified students stay in college and complete their enlistment only when certain they cannot finish their curriculum.

The Marine Corps demonstrated its Platoon Leaders program, for which all undergraduates able to pass the rigid physical are eligible. A student who is fit for the program is granted a deferment, but must attend two summer camps before graduation. After commencement, he is commissioned a second lieutenant in the Corps and must serve two years of actual duty and six years in the reserves.

"Very encouraging" are the words used by the Rev. James I. Birkley, new Director of St. Joseph's Calumet Center, to describe this semester's 145 student enrollment, highest in the center's history.

The Hammond Extension, instituted only last year, is headed by Father Birkley for the first time; the director last year was Father Henry Martin, now on the Collegeville campus as Coordinator of Student Personnel. Before his new appointment, Father Birkley was an English instructor here.

This semester the Extension is offering the same number of courses as in the second semester of last year. However, two courses in Social Studies have been replaced by courses in Parliamentary Procedure and in Industrial Hygiene for Nurses.

Instructors to the Extension students (most of whom are women) include a dozen professors from St. Joe plus a half dozen lay professors from the Calumet region. The commuters from St. Joe are Fathers Kenkel, Kaiser, Pax, Dirksen, Otte, Maziarz, Martin, and Cera; and Messrs. Dumas, Kelly, and Marin.

We Need You

This is an advertisement.

For some ridiculous reason, many students graduate after four years of college. Believe it or not, this number also includes newspapermen, even the STUFF staff, which is about as low as you can go.

Since old journalists fade away, they need replacements. This usually means freshmen are recruited each year for the paper. This year's first call brought such sparse results that we thought we'd better try again. So here's the word.

Anyone—freshman, transfer student, or returnee—interested in joining (and we don't mean the Army), is welcome at the STUFF meeting this (Wednesday) evening in the office on the second floor of the Publications Building. (Ask directions of any policeman.)

be decided by the candidates themselves. The president will be elected by a simple plurality, and separate ballots will be cast for the offices of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

Any freshman interested in student government is urged to take this opportunity to become part of the student governmental organization of St. Joseph's.

the Valpo 25, set up the score. There were three men guarding Klein, but Clayton reached high into the air and pulled down the pass. A penalty advanced the ball to the 8, Chuck Brown went to the three, and Don Gorman scored on the next play, bringing the score to its final 32-13.

STUFF'S STRAW BALLOT

Whom would you like to see elected as the 34th president of the United States? In an effort to determine the political leanings of Collegeville's citizens, STUFF is sponsoring this straw ballot for the presidency. Any resident of St. Joseph's is invited to participate. You are asked to fill out the ballot according to your choice and turn it in to anyone listed in the STUFF masthead on page two. All votes should be in by Sunday evening. Full results will be published in the next issue and everyone's anonymity will be preserved.

REMEMBER: THE MORE VOTES, THE MORE ACCURATE THE POLL WILL BE.
